Today's Readings

First Reading -- Paul and Barnabas continue their travels, spreading the faith and unifying the churches. (Acts 14:21-27)

Psalm -- I will praise your name for ever, my king and my God. (Psalm 145)

Second Reading -- John's vision of God dwelling with the human race. (Revelation 21:1-5a)

Gospel -- As Jesus has loved us, so we must love one another. (John 13:31-33a, 34-35)

The English translation of the Psalm Responses from the Lectionary for Mass (c) 1969, 1981, 1997, International Commission on English in the Liturgy Corporation. All rights reserved.

TRUE CHRISTIAN COMMUNITY

Can you imagine a world such as the one put before us in today's scripture readings? Communities of believers everywhere would support and encourage one another and be identified as Christians by the way they love each other. It would be a world with no tears, no death and mourning, no crying out in pain. "Behold, I make all things new," we hear the Son of God say in the second reading from the book of Revelation (21:5).

Is this world of John's vision only imaginary? Are these faithful followers for whom Jesus prayed only a savior's dream? Today they are put before us as a worthy goal. How much closer can we come to this vision of a true Christian community in our lives today?
